Dear PShare Users,

We have just been notified that due to an unforeseen policy change within the Google Play Store, the download process of PShare for Android users has changed.

NEW Process:

Download PShare App for Android from:

http://www.pshare.com/app/pshare\_en.apk

or scan

The PShare download mode for iOS is the same as it has always been, from the Apple Store.

During the app Installation, Android users may be notified that their system is at risk, which we have been told is a normal warning for any software not downloaded directly from the Google Store. PShare have assured us that the software is safe to download and will not cause any risk to your mobile system by using this new method.

As we have no direct affiliation with PShare, and will not be using PShare in our bollards moving forward, if you would like support in this matter, please contact:
